

July 10, 1998

I was looking to buy a motorcycle for the past two weeks, and visited three dealers. I noticed immediately the difference in the salesman in your dealership and the others. The salesman who met me at the door was Brett Grobosky, he was courteous, knowledgeable about his product and never pushed me to make a decision to buy a motorcycle that I was not sure off. He let me test ride a Honda Magna that I really liked and bought.

The negotiation to close the deal I felt was fair to both of us, and did not take too much time. Brett followed up on everything he promised to do.

It was a nice experience to do business with your company, and I will recommend your company to all my friends in the market for a motorcycle.

Sincerely

George Nasser
